OPINION

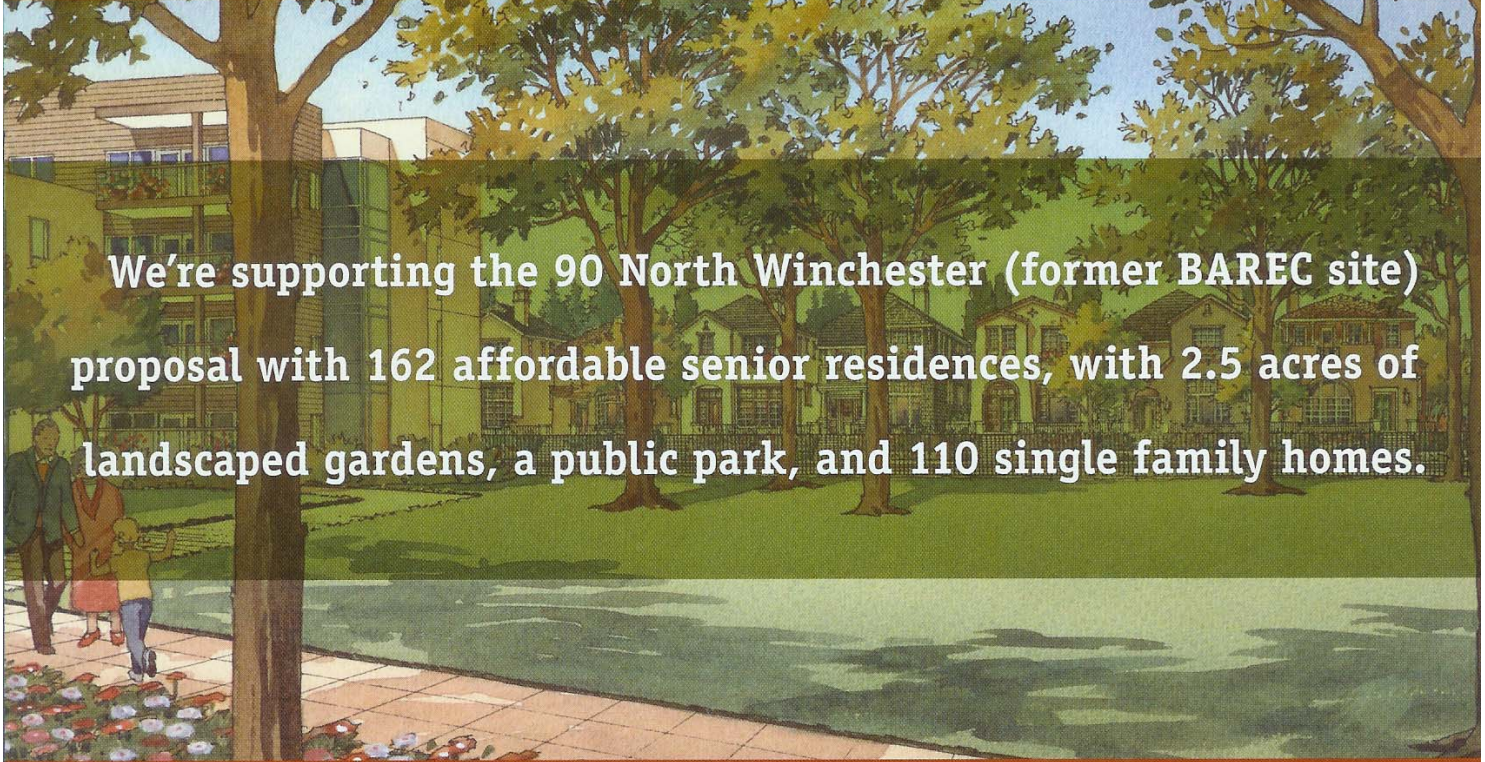

February 3, 2003

"This is a prime location for housing. Sites like this, known as 'infill,' are Silicon Valley's only alternative to sprawl, whose costs in tax dollars and highway gridlock are immense."

April 25, 2007

"CALIFORNIA-OWNED LAND'S DESTINY IS PROVIDING NEEDED HOUSING... This is not rural land, it's a site most assumed would be developed eventually."

THE COMMUNITY AT 90 NORTH WINCHESTER

We're supporting the 90 North Winchester (former BAREC site) proposal with 162 affordable senior residences, with 2.5 acres of landscaped gardens, a public park, and 110 single family homes.

Let us tell you why...

—John Connelly and Roxanne Sheets,
Forest Avenue fenceline neighbors

High-Quality Homes to Improve Santa Clara's Housing Options

"We like the 90 North Winchester proposal because it will bring high-quality homes to the City of Santa Clara and strengthen our local property values. The location is convenient to services and transportation, and the new homes should help the city attract quality companies and well-paying jobs."

We want to hear from you!

Please fill out and return this card to show your support for the housing and open space this proposal will bring to Santa Clara.

162 Affordable Homes for Independent Seniors

"It seems like every year Santa Clara becomes an even more expensive place to live. But I love it here and I can't imagine moving away from my children and grandchildren in these precious years for our growing family. We need 90 North Winchester and the affordable housing it will bring for local senior citizens."

—Rhonda Farber, Ph.D.,
CUHSD Superintendent

Good for Local Schools

“Our district’s high schools will serve the families of The Community at 90 North Winchester—and I am pleased to support the plan. We have the capacity to accept more students into our schools, and while this proposal only includes 110 single family residences, each new student will be welcomed.”
